Singapore Consul General lauds Sri City facilities

Express News Service
Tirupati, November 26

AJIT Singh, Consul General of Singapore in Chennai, visited Sri City today to study the development activities in the Special Economic Zone (SEZ) with Domestic Tariff Zone (DTZ).

Accompanied by Singapore Consulate officials, he went round the SEZ at Varadapalem in Satyavedu constituency. Later, he visited the manufacturing facilities of different units.

Interacting with media-persons, Singh said he was very much impressed with the brisk pace of industrial infrastructure development works in Sri City, which is set to develop into a world-class business city ushering in prosperity in the region.

The SEZ is strategically located with three ports (Krishnapatnam, Ennore and Chennai) very near to it. There is also a good road connectivity, he said, promising to encourage Singapore business community to set up units in Sri City.

Sri City managing director Ravindra Sannareddy said the SEZ had been associated with Singapore since its inception. The Sri City master plan was designed by renowned Jurong Consultants of Singapore. One of the major investors in Sri City is Singapore-based Credit Asia Capital. Sri City will lay special emphasis on Singapore being the regional headquarters for many companies in the Asia Pacific Region, to attract business investments, he said.
