

Singapore delegation impressed with Sri City

Staff Reporter

TIRUPATI: Consul General of Singapore in Chennai Ajit Singh led a business-cum-official delegation to Sri City, the integrated business city in Satyavedu constituency on the Tamil Nadu border and found the expansive premises a 'picture perfect' business destination.

Accompanied by Sri City's managing director Ravindra Sannareddy, Mr. Singh drove around the complex, which has both a Special Economic Zone (SEZ) and a Domestic Tariff Zone (DTZ), and expressed satisfaction at the pace of work taking place.

Speaking to media persons, Mr. Singh acknowledged that his visit was a result of positive feedback he had got from bureaucrats, politicians and businessmen.

Connectivity

Its connectivity to the National Highway-5, Chennai-Kolkata rail route, proximity to three seaports and two international airports made it a promising destination. He felt the place offered a lot of scope for investment from Singapore and assured to play his role as a facilitator in providing counselling to business delegates.

Recalling the business dis-

FLOORED: Consul General of Singapore in Chennai, Ajit Singh (extreme right), looks at a model of Sri City at Satyavedu SEZ in Chittoor district on Thursday.

trict's connection with Singapore, Mr. Sannareddy pointed out that its master-plan was drafted by Jurong Consultants, while Singapore-based Credit Asia Capital was one of the key investors in Sri City. He assured to develop country-specific enclaves to cater to the specific business and social needs of the companies.